

International Disaster Management Training and Briefing Week with Bournemouth University Disaster Management Centre

Bournemouth University Disaster Management Centre (BUDMC) designs and delivers world-class training and technical assistance in Disaster Management. Most staff time is spent a broad delivering these services, tailored to the needs of government ministries, police, emergency services, military, international agencies, non-governmental organisations and industry.

Each year BUDMC sets aside time in UK to run a number of International Disaster Management Training and Briefing Weeks. Their aim is to provide a sound understanding of international disaster management, best practice, and current issues drawn from our ongoing experiences overseas. This course is ideal for busy middle to senior managers for who long periods of time away from the office is unacceptable. Past participants typically come from national disaster management agencies, emergency services, armed forces, NGOs, media and industry.

International Disaster Management Training and Briefing Week (22 – 26 September 2008)

---

The programme covers a wide scope of disaster management topics including:

- International Concepts and Best Practice
- Mass Casualty Handling and Information
- Integrated Planning and Response Management
- Communications Before, During and After Disasters
- Issues of Cooperation and Coordination
- Natural Hazards
- Natural and Man-Made Hazards
- Risk Analysis and Risk Reduction
- Complex Emergencies & Humanitarian Ops
- International Assistance
- Hazard Mapping
- Business Risk and Continuity Planning
- Man Made Hazards

The course is delivered by staff of BUDMC and Bournemouth University's other academic schools as well as by guest lecturers. The Course Director will be Richard Gordon, Director BUDMC. The course is highly interactive and, with some modules running in parallel, allows participants to select subject areas most relevant to their current or future career needs.

Course fees are £1,250 inclusive. Fees cover the costs of tuition, all training materials, plus full residential costs including all meals (breakfast, lunch and dinner), and coffee and tea breaks during the working day.

BOOK NOW!

For further details or to submit an application form, please contact:

Richard Gordon MBE,
Bournemouth University Disaster Management Centre
Melbury House
1 – 3 Oxford Road
Bournemouth
Dorset BH8 8ES United Kingdom
Tel: +44 (0) 1202 961324
Fax: +44 (0) 1202 961201