“To better understand how the empowerment of women and girls feature within these agreements, and to assist the humanitarian sector in developing a focused plan of action, this event will call on the expertise of highly-respected leaders within the areas of disaster risk reduction, sustainable development, humanitarian finance and climate change adaption. Through their presentations and the subsequent audience-led discussion and collaboration, this event will aim to provide a clear and effective way forward for key stakeholders to reach an agreed strategy to ensure a useful, usable and inclusive implementation.”

Kevin Blanchard, Director of DRR Dynamics & organiser
