

Science in HFA2

- Greater recognition and use of science and technology in DRR to inform policy and enable action
- Establish regular and closer interaction between scientists, policy makers and elected representatives at local and national levels
- Use scientific and technical knowledge and education to promote safety and resilience at all levels